“It is Not My Heritage”

An Analysis of the #RhodesMustFall and #ScienceMustFall Campaigns

Guest Speaker: Ms. Jacqueline Jordaan

When: Friday, March 17, 2017 @ 11:30 AM – 1:00 PM.

Where: St. Paul’s College, Room # 249.

Jacqueline Jordan’s Bio

Jacqueline Jordaan is a PhD candidate in the department of Anthropology at the University of Manitoba. She received a M.A. from University of Pretoria, South Africa. Her studies concern southern African archaeology and heritage-making. She is involved with local and international efforts to promote archaeology research and practice, as a past executive member of the Southern African Archaeology Student Council (SAASC) and as a current editorial board member for the International Journal of Student Research in Archaeology (IJSRA).

Ms. Jordan will be speaking on the subject of ““It is Not My Heritage:”An Analysis of the #RhodesMustFall and #ScienceMustFall Campaigns.” Her discussion will focus on the local perception of heritage and the African past as characterised by student initiated tertiary education campaign statements that highlight colonial and apartheid legacy issues in South Africa.
